

The family of broadband users who choose local internet service providers must be given equal access (cost) to maintain fair market principles. Please be careful -- slight price increases will destroy the balancing effect of smaller companys.

Thanks!

Dion